WRITTEN OPINION OF THE
INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY

International application No.

PCT/US04/24630

Box No. VII Certain defects in the international application

The following defects in the form or contents of the international application have been noted:

Specification

The description is objected to as containing the following defect(s) under PCT Rule 66.2(a)(iii) in the form or contents thereof:

The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under PCT Rule 66.2(a)(iii) as containing the following defect(s) in the form or content thereof:

The drawings do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: Fig. 2B, detail 218.

Since the lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors, Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the drawings. For example, the drawings should be carefully checked to ensure that all reference numerals are described in the specification, that no one reference numeral describes two separate drawing elements, or that the specification contains no reference to numerals not in the drawings.

Claims 9, 16, and 35 are objected to under PCT Rule 66.2(a)(iii) as containing the following defect(s) in the form or contents thereof:

Claims 9 and 16 recites what appears to be an attempt at claiming a Markush group. If this is a Markush group claimed, the claim must follow the correct format for a Markush group.

Claim 35 recites "an items" in line 2. This is a grammatical error because the article "an" does not agree with the noun "items."

Appropriate correction is required.

view" [MacOSXHints, page 2, paragraph 8 with MacOSXHints, pages 2-3, paragraphs 10 and 12].

26. Claims 19-23, 25-29, 36, 37, 39, and 40 lack inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over MacOSXHints (<http://www.macosxhints.com/article.php?story=20030305025744788>) in view of U.S. Patent No. 5,937,406 (Balabine et al.).
27. For Claim 19, MacOSXHints teaches: "The computer system of Claim 1."
MacOSXHints discloses the above limitations but does not expressly teach: "...wherein said shell is further configured to present items selected from said plurality of items according to an explorer display view."
With respect to Claim 19, an analogous art, Balabine, teaches: "...wherein said shell is further configured to present items selected from said plurality of items according to an explorer display view" [Balabine, Figs. 5A-5C].
It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to combine Balabine with MacOSXHints because both inventions are directed towards storing and viewing files on file systems.
Balabine's invention would have been expected to successfully work well with MacOSXHints's invention because both inventions use file systems on computers. MacOSXHints discloses Mac OS X's handling of metadata display information comprising a .DS_Store file, windows, icons, and display properties, however MacOSXHints does not expressly disclose an explorer display view. Balabine discloses a file system interface to a database comprising an explorer display view.
It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to take the explorer display view from Balabine and install it into the computer system of MacOSXHints, thereby offering the obvious advantage of offering the user a choice in display view interfaces.
28. Claim 20 can be mapped to MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) as follows: "The computer system of Claim 19, wherein said explorer display view includes one or more decorative properties" [MacOSXHints, page 2, paragraph 6 with MacOSXHints, page 3, paragraphs 11-13 with Balabine, Figs. 5A-5C].
29. Claim 21 can be mapped to MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) as follows: "The computer system of Claim 19, wherein said explorer display view includes one or more shell display views, and wherein one of said shell display views is utilized to display a set of explorer items" [MacOSXHints, page 2, paragraph 6 with MacOSXHints, page 3, paragraphs 11-13 with Balabine, Figs. 5A-5C].
30. Claim 22 can be mapped to MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) as follows: "The computer system of Claim 21, wherein said shell display view includes one or more display aspects appropriate for displaying each of said set of explorer items to a user" [MacOSXHints, page 2, paragraphs 6 and 8].
31. Claim 23 can be mapped to MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) as follows: "The computer system of Claim 22, wherein each of said set of explorer items include a common characteristic" [MacOSXHints, page 2, paragraphs 6 and 8].
32. Claim 25 can be mapped to MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) as follows: "The computer system of Claim 21, wherein said explorer display view is configured to display an explorer item which is not associated with a shell display view according to an item decoration view" [MacOSXHints, page 2, paragraphs 6 and 8 with MacOSXHints, page 3, paragraphs 11-13 with Balabine, Figs. 5A-5C].
33. Claim 26 can be mapped to MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) as follows: "The computer system of Claim 21, wherein said explorer display view is configured to display an explorer item which is not associated with an item decoration view according to said default display view" [MacOSXHints, page 2, paragraphs 6 and 8 with MacOSXHints, page 3, paragraphs 11-13 with Balabine, Figs. 5A-5C].
34. Claim 27 can be mapped to MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) as follows: "The computer system of Claim 19, wherein said explorer display view includes one or more data queries associated with said explorer display view" [Balabine, col. 5, lines 25-30].
35. Claim 28 can be mapped to MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) as follows: "The computer system of Claim 19, wherein said explorer display view includes one or more verbs, said verbs being associated with an operation to be performed on a selected explorer item" [MacOSXHints, page 2, paragraph 6 with MacOSXHints page 3, paragraphs 12-14].
36. Claim 29 can be mapped to MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) as follows: "The computer system of Claim 28, wherein said operation is performed by an application launched to perform said task with respect to said selected explorer item" [MacOSXHints, page 2, paragraphs 6 and 8 with MacOSXHints page 3, paragraphs 12-14].
37. For Claim 36, MacOSXHints teaches: "The method of Claim 30."
MacOSXHints discloses the above limitations but does not expressly teach: "...wherein said method further comprises presenting items according to an explorer display view."
With respect to Claim 36, an analogous art, Balabine, teaches: "...wherein said method further comprises presenting items according to an explorer display view" [Balabine, Figs. 5A-5C].
It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to combine Balabine with MacOSXHints because both inventions are directed towards storing and viewing files on file systems.
Balabine's invention would have been expected to successfully work well with MacOSXHints's invention because both inventions use file systems on computers. MacOSXHints discloses Mac OS X's handling of metadata display information comprising a .DS_Store file, windows, icons, and display properties, however MacOSXHints does not expressly disclose an explorer display view. Balabine discloses a file system interface to a database comprising an explorer display view.
It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to take the explorer display view from Balabine and install it into the computer system of MacOSXHints, thereby offering the obvious advantage of offering the user a choice in display view interfaces.
39. Claim 37 can be mapped to MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) as follows: "The method of Claim 36, wherein said explorer display view includes one or more decorative properties [MacOSXHints, page 2, paragraph 6 with MacOSXHints, page 3, paragraphs 11-13 with Balabine, Figs. 5A-5C] and one or more shell display views, and wherein one or more of said shell display views are utilized to display a set of explorer items" [MacOSXHints, page 2, paragraph 6 with MacOSXHints, page 3, paragraphs 11-13 with Balabine,

40. Claim 39 can be mapped to MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) as follows: "The method of Claim 37, wherein an item which cannot be displayed according to a shell display view is presented according to an item decoration view" [MacOSXHints, pages 2-3, paragraphs 6, 8, and 10-14].
41. Claim 40 can be mapped to MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) as follows: "The method of Claim 36, wherein said explorer display view includes one or more verbs, said verbs being associated with an operation to be performed on a selected explorer item" [MacOSXHints, page 2, paragraph 6 with MacOSXHints page 3, paragraphs 12-14].

Claims 24 and 38 lack inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over MacOSXHints (<http://www.macosexhints.com/article.php?story=20030305025744788>) in view of U.S. Patent No. 5,937,406 (Balabine et al.), further in view of MacOSXHints2 (<http://www.macosexhints.com/article.php?story=20030409015020645>).

42. For Claim 24, MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) teaches: "The computer system of Claim 21."

MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) discloses the above limitations but does not expressly teach: "...wherein said explorer display view is configured to utilize a shell display view not included with an explorer to display an item which cannot be displayed according to said one or more shell display views included with said explorer display view."

With respect to Claim 24, an analogous art, MacOSXHints2, teaches: "...wherein said explorer display view is configured to utilize a shell display view not included with an explorer to display an item which cannot be displayed according to said one or more shell display views included with said explorer display view" [MacOSXHints2, page 1 with MacOSXHints, page 1, paragraph 3].

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to combine MacOSXHints2 with MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) because both inventions are directed towards storing and viewing files on file systems.

MacOSXHints2's invention would have been expected to successfully work well with MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine)'s invention because both inventions use file systems on computers. MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) discloses Mac OS X's handling of metadata display information comprising a .DS_Store file, windows, icons, and display properties, however MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) does not expressly disclose an explorer display view. MacOSXHints2 discloses changing the finder preference of viewing invisible files comprising a script.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to take the explorer display view from MacOSXHints2 and install it into the computer system of MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine), thereby offering the obvious advantage of offering the user a choice in display view interfaces.

43. For Claim 38, MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) teaches: "The method of Claim 37."

MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) discloses the above limitations but does not expressly teach: "...wherein an item which cannot be displayed according to said one or more shell display views included with said explorer display view is presented according to a shell display view not included with said explorer display view."

With respect to Claim 38, an analogous art, MacOSXHints2, teaches: "...wherein an item which cannot be displayed according to said one or more shell display views included with said explorer display view is presented according to a shell display view not included with said explorer display view" [MacOSXHints2, page 1 with MacOSXHints, page 1, paragraph 3].

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to combine MacOSXHints2 with MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) because both inventions are directed towards storing and viewing files on file systems.

MacOSXHints2's invention would have been expected to successfully work well with MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine)'s invention because both inventions use file systems on computers. MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) discloses Mac OS X's handling of metadata display information comprising a .DS_Store file, windows, icons, and display properties, however MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine) does not expressly disclose an explorer display view. MacOSXHints2 discloses changing the finder preference of viewing invisible files comprising a script.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to take the explorer display view from MacOSXHints2 and install it into the computer system of MacOSXHints (as modified by Balabine), thereby offering the obvious advantage of offering the user a choice in display view interfaces.

Claims 1-41 meet the criteria set out in PCT article 33(4), and thus have industrial applicability because the subject matter claimed can be made or used in industry.

NOTES TO FORM PCT/ISA/220

These Notes are intended to give the basic instructions concerning the filing of amendments under Article 19. The Notes are based on the requirements of the Patent Cooperation Treaty, the Regulations and the Administrative Instructions under that Treaty. In case of discrepancy between these Notes and those requirements, the latter are applicable. For more detailed information, see also the PCT Applicant's Guide, a publication of WIPO.

In these Notes, "Article," "Rule" and "Section" refer to the provisions of the PCT, the PCT Regulations and the PCT Administrative Instructions, respectively.

INSTRUCTIONS CONCERNING AMENDMENTS UNDER ARTICLE 19

The applicant has, after having received the international search report and the written opinion of the International Searching Authority, one opportunity to amend the claims of the international application. It should however be emphasized that, since all parts of the international application (claims, description and drawings) may be amended during the international preliminary examination procedure, there is usually no need to file amendments of the claims under Article 19 except where, e.g. the applicant wants the latter to be published for the purposes of provisional protection or has another reason for amending the claims before international publication. Furthermore, it should be emphasized that provisional protection is available in some States only (see PCT Applicant's Guide, Volume I/A, Annexes B1 and B2).

The attention of the applicant is drawn to the fact that amendments to the claims under Article 19 are not allowed where the International Searching Authority has declared, under Article 17(2), that no international search report would be established (see PCT Applicant's Guide, Volume I/A, paragraph 296).

What parts of the international application may be amended ?

Under Article 19, only the claims may be amended.

During the international phase, the claims may also be amended (or further amended) under Article 34 before the International Preliminary Examining Authority. The description and drawings may only be amended under Article 34 before the International Preliminary Examining Authority.

Upon entry into the national phase, all parts of the international application may be amended under Article 28 or, where applicable, Article 41.

When ? Within 2 months from the date of transmittal of the international search report or 16 months from the priority date, whichever time limit expires later. It should be noted, however, that the amendments will be considered as having been received on time if they are received by the International Bureau after the expiration of the applicable time limit but before the completion of the technical preparations for international publication (Rule 46.1).

Where not to file the amendments ?

The amendments may only be filed with the International Bureau and not with the receiving Office or the International Searching Authority (Rule 46.2).

Where a demand for international preliminary examination has been/is filed, see below.

How ? Either by cancelling one or more entire claims, by adding one or more new claims or by amending the text of one or more of the claims as filed.

A replacement sheet must be submitted for each sheet of the claims which, on account of an amendment or amendments, differs from the sheet originally filed.

All the claims appearing on a replacement sheet must be numbered in Arabic numerals. Where a claim is cancelled, no renumbering of the other claims is required. In all cases where claims are renumbered, they must be renumbered consecutively (Section 205(b)).

The amendments must be made in the language in which the international application is to be published.

What documents must/may accompany the amendments ?

Letter (Section 205(b)):

The amendments must be submitted with a letter.

The letter will not be published with the international application and the amended claims. It should not be confused with the "Statement under Article 19(1)" (see below, under "Statement under Article 19(1)").

The letter must be in English or French, at the choice of the applicant. However, if the language of the international application is English, the letter must be in English; if the language of the international application is French, the letter must be in French.
